

Unit 3 English – Outcome 1
Reading and creating text Practice SAC

Name: _____

The Task:

You are required to complete an analytical response to False Claims of Colonial Thieves by Charmaine Papertalk Green and John Kinsella. Choose one topic from the choices below. You are required to analyse in writing how the collection constructs meaning, conveys ideas and values, and is open to a range of interpretations.

Conditions:

- This PRACTICE SAC will take place during a 100 minute double session, in Week 9/10 of Term 1.
- You are required to write between 800 – 1000 words.
- You must prepare and bring one A4, single-sided, hand-written page of quotes only to your SAC.
- You are permitted to bring a dictionary that has no markings on it.
- You are advised to plan, edit and proof read your response, before submission to your teacher.
- Your response must be written in black or blue pen only in an A4 size lined SAC book.
- Your response will be marked out of 30 according to the criteria below.

Please circle/highlight the topic to which you are responding. Select ONE

1. “The king brown does not die from its own poison” (Undermining John Kinsella)
“A place of living/a place of our ceremonies/Long before it was/called Mass Rock/Hawes, God’s intruder” (Hawes God’s Intruder Papertalk Green)

How does False Claims of Colonial Thieves explore the significance of the land?

OR

2. ‘False Claims Of Colonial Thieves’ highlights how Colonialism is a contemporary issue. Discuss.

OR

3. ‘False Claims Of Colonial Thieves’ is a discussion on the impact Colonialism has on culture. Do you agree?

Assessment Criteria (Each criterion will be allocated 6 possible marks)

Understanding and analysis of context, views and values expressed by the text and author
Sustained interpretation of the text
Use of textual evidence
Use of analytical features including use of metalanguage
Expressive, fluent and coherent writing