

Persuasive Oral Planning Sheet

Introduction:

In your introduction you should: hook your audience, introduce the background information about your topic, clearly state your contention and briefly outline your key supporting arguments.

Background details:

Your contention:

Supporting arguments:

Body Paragraph 1:

You should use TEEEL in the body paragraphs, concentrating on one main argument per body paragraph and ensuring that each body paragraph is well-supported with evidence (you should also label the source of each piece of evidence).

What is your main argument for this body paragraph?

What evidence will you use to support this argument (label the source of this piece of evidence)?

What persuasive language techniques do you intend to use in this paragraph?

How will you engage your audience throughout this body paragraph (For instance: will you hand around an image or prop, use of ICT, incorporate any planned body movements, draw an image on the board etc.?)

Body Paragraph 2:

What is your main argument for this body paragraph?

What evidence will you use to support this argument (label the source of this piece of evidence)?

What persuasive language techniques do you intend to use in this paragraph? .

How will you engage your audience throughout this body paragraph (For instance: will you hand around an image or prop, use of ICT, incorporate any planned body movements, draw an image on the board etc.?)

Body Paragraph 3:

What is your main argument for this body paragraph?

What evidence will you use to support this argument (label the source of this piece of evidence)?

What persuasive language techniques do you intend to use in this paragraph?

How will you engage your audience throughout this body paragraph (For instance: will you hand around an image or prop, use ICT, incorporate any planned body movements, draw an image on the board etc.?)

Body Paragraph 4 (Rebuttal):

What is the main argument of the opposing side that you will be rebutting?

What is your rebuttal argument?

What evidence will you use to support your rebuttal argument (label the source of that piece of evidence)?

What persuasive language techniques do you intend to use in this paragraph?

How will you engage your audience throughout this body paragraph (For instance: will you hand around an image or prop, use ICT, incorporate any planned body movements, draw an image on the board etc.?)

Conclusion:

In your conclusion you should sum up, refer to your main contention but avoid being repetitive. You should finish on a convincing note.

How will you finish your speech in a memorable way?